

Election Calendar

If you are eligible, voting is one of the simplest ways to have a say in politics and make your voice heard. All elections are important, from presidential elections to local referendums. Staying on top of dates and deadlines for many elections doesn't have to be overwhelming. These are a few of the most important dates to remember.

Election timelines and calendars are often posted to the state Division of Elections or Secretary of State's website. Local information can be found on your town or city's website.
